C-CELL AND D-CELL MAG-LITE® FLASHLIGHTS

Known the world over for their quality and dependability, Mag-Lite® Flashlights are a popular and economical choice. The only difference between the C-Cell and D-Cell Flashlights is the battery size, which also affects the weight, with the C-Cell being a bit lighter. Both flashlights possess dynamic features such as a White Star® Krypton Gas Lamp that provides a bright light, plus a spare lamp in the tailcap. The self-cleaning rotary switch has three positions: On, Off and Signal. Aluminum construction means these flashlights can withstand heavy use. In addition, they are o-ring sealed making them water-resistant as well.
